Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 47-49 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ladin '090.

Ladin is considered to render obvious all of the subject matter of the above claims. Figure 2b of Ladin shows a release layer 206 and a permeable membrane 204. It is considered to have been obvious to make the membrane moisture absorbent so that the wound is able to stay dry and therefore heal faster. Further, it is well known to use paper as membranes due to its absorbent nature.

3. Claims 47-49, 52, 53 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sibalis '682.

Sibalis is considered to render obvious the subject matter of the above claims. Figure 6b shows two release layers 48, 48', and a membrane 62. As taught in column 4, lines 41-45, membrane 62 can be made of scrim. To use paper instead of scrim is considered to have been obvious since they are both cloth-like absorbent materials with similar characteristics.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claim 54 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
